

“It has been written throughout my career that toughness is my trademark. Well, the toughest person I’ve ever met in my life is my hero, my soldier, my son, Hunter. I love you, buddy.”

JIM KELLY

*Hall of Fame QB, Buffalo Bills
During His HOF Acceptance Speech*

My only son, Hunter, was born on Valentine’s Day – my birthday. He was the son I always wanted. But within four months, he was diagnosed with a fatal disease called Krabbe leukodystrophy. Doctors said to go home and make him comfortable. From that day, my wife and I made a lifelong commitment to make sure that kids all over the world like Hunter don’t suffer.

Hunter’s Hope began almost 20 years ago and has helped hundreds of children and families around the world receive the care and treatment they deserve. With your $12 gift, you can be a hero to children and families around the world. Hunter will forever be my hero. Will you be a hero? – Jim
